Take a Walk with Jesus

We are embarking on the final leg of our journey to Easter. The last week of Lent is known as Holy Week. It starts on Palm Sunday, also known as Passion Sunday because we read the entire passion story. Palm Sunday functions as a kind of overture for the rest of the week. In the passion narrative all the major themes are struck, the themes that will be taken up and developed later in the week at our special liturgies. If you usually attend church on Palm Sunday and then come back the following Sunday for Easter, I would encourage you to attend the extra services we have during Holy Week. I think you will find that they each effect you in different ways, but that together they will prepare your heart for the celebration of the Lord's resurrection on Sunday. During Holy Week we are invited to walk with Jesus through those final days of his life. It is a powerful spiritual exercise to do this every year. Once you try it you will be hooked and become a regular at the Holy Week services. I can't imagine not being part of these powerful services. I would feel like there was something missing on Easter Day.

Maundy Thursday

Together they are known as the Triduum, the three holy days from Thursday through Saturday. It all begins on Maundy Thursday. (NOTE: It is not "Monday" Thursday. The name comes from the Latin word mandatum, meaning commandment. Jesus gave the new commandment to his disciples at the Last Supper that they should love one another as he had loved them.) This service commemorates a number of things: the giving of the new commandment, the institution of Holy Communion, and Jesus washing his disciples' feet and telling them they should do the same. It also serves as the final act of Jesus' teaching ministry. Not long after that meal, he is arrested. In fact, Judas leaves that table fellowship to go and betray Jesus. This is no ordinary meal Jesus shares with his close friends. It is fraught with tension, suspense, anxiety, and deep meaning. At this service you have the opportunity to get your feet washed by the priest or deacon. At the end of this service, we strip the altar bare reminding us of Jesus' humiliation and suffering.

Good Friday

A simple yet powerful service, Good Friday invites us to contemplate the crucifixion, suffering, and death of Jesus. We read the entire passion again, this time from John's Gospel. On Palm Sunday we read the version corresponding to the lectionary year, Matthew in year A, Mark in year B, and Luke in year C. We also kneel in front of the cross and sing devotional anthems. The end of the service seems abrupt without the usual blessing or dismissal. You can receive Communion from the reserved sacrament that was placed on the altar of repose the night before, but you don't have to, it depends on your piety. In the beginning of the service, the church is dark and empty. It remains dark and empty at the end except for the cross placed prominently in the center. We leave in silence with images of Jesus' dying and being laid in the tomb in our minds. We know the story is not yet over.

The Great Vigil of Easter

The Vigil was originally an all-night affair for those who were preparing to be baptized. Everyone would gather just before dawn Sunday morning—the original sunrise service—to begin their Easter celebration with the kindling of a New Fire. Now we celebrate the Vigil Saturday evening for convenience. We simulate the growing dawn and finally the sunrise with artificial light. We still start with a fire, from which we light the Paschal Candle, a symbol of Christ's resurrection. We process into the dark and empty church, feeling like a tomb, carrying the Light of Christ. There is a telling of several long Old Testament stories, from creation to Israel's deliverance at the Red Sea, all setting the stage for our salvation through Christ. We celebrate baptisms, or just renew our own baptismal vows if there are no baptisms to be done. All along, the light in the church gradually grows. Finally, we shout the Easter acclamation, we ring bells, and sing Glory to God. It is finally Easter! And if you have attended all three services, you are feeling the powerful release of the tension that began while the altar was being stripped Thursday evening. It is now arrayed in beautiful and luminous white. The candles are all lit. The church is filled with light. The glory of Christ's resurrection is palpable. We have walked with Jesus through the pathos, the agony, the betrayal, the denial, the pain, the death, the quiet darkness, finally to arrive at the empty tomb. It is a wild ride.

I invite you, as you are able, to attend these services, especially if you have never done so before. You will not be disappointed. You will indeed be blessed.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

TED Talk

Challenges, Discoveries, Blessings

It is hard to imagine that Holy Week is upon us! Lent, for me, has been a whirlwind of teaching singing and producing opera at Penn State, planning events for Episcopal at Penn State, and navigating the college audition process for our oldest, Madi. Blessings abound, to be sure. Discoveries and challenges also abound, as I navigate this first year of ordained ministry in the church and work as your assistant Rector and Chaplain to Episcopal at Penn State.

Challenges first: I am learning that January-March is a red zone of busyness in my life at Penn State. It has been so wonderful that our small-but-mighty cohort of students on campus forged such a tight-knit community in the fall that they could continue through the winter months, even without daily (or sometimes weekly!) updates from me. We continued to meet for Sunday evening fellowship and for worship on Mondays and Wednesdays on campus.

Discoveries second: Episcopal at Penn State offered a Lent series on the Body – as Church, as Sacrament, as Body, our first offering on campus in Pasquerilla. Wonderful and rich conversations, led by Fr. Jeff, Fr. Carlos de la Torre, and the students, took place over three Mondays in Lent. We shared a meal and gathered for sung Compline in Eisenhower Chapel. This has been a rich and rewarding experience and I believe that the group will be hungry for more such events, moving forward. There are so many interesting and deep and surprising folks on campus who show up – true campus ministry is empowering the ministry of those who show up, and events like our Lent series do just that.

Blessings, finally: Emily Sterk, our president, defended her dissertation in February, and I was honored to be invited to attend. I was also grateful to Rick Yoder for his willingness to present a pre-performance lecture as part of Penn State Opera Theatre's March production of Poulenc's Dialogues of the Carmelites – nice intersection of day-job and church-job! Alex Coberly visited London over Spring Break as part of his Art History studies and frequently serves as reader at our Wednesday noon Eucharist. Stephanie Bunt – a regular at Sunday 8 a.m. Holy Eucharist, participates in just about everything when she is in town. Maggie Bond will graduate this May – we will miss her, and we are also delighted to welcome new folks who show up from time to time, including Ben Evangelisti, who defended his dissertation last semester.

As spring emerges, as we contemplate the Pascal mystery, I will consider it my spiritual practice to continue to look for the intersection of the blessings, discoveries, and challenges of my life.

With affection –

WORSHIP

EVENSONG

Sunday, April 2, 5 p.m.
Church
Reception, 6 p.m., Room 325

On Sunday, April 2, at 5 p.m., the choir will sing the service of choral evensong. Music will include a Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis by Herbert Brewer, Preces and Responses by Richard Ayleward, and anthems by John IV or Portugal and John Ireland. Organist Gwen Catchen will play music by Helmut Walcva and others. The Rev. Jeffrey Packard will be the officiant.

Prior to the Reformation, prayer in the early evening or late afternoon was known as the Office of Vespers, one of the eight Canonical Hours of the divine office of the Western church. However, in 1549, a prayer book known as the Book of Common Prayer was adopted in the context of the English Reformation. Bishop Thomas Cranmer established the office of Evensong using elements taken from both Vespers and Compline, generally to be conducted in the English language, as was the case with the entire liturgy.

After a series of slight modifications, the office of Evensong took its modern form in the 1662 Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England, a form that is followed very closely throughout the whole of the Anglican and Episcopal Church throughout the world. This is the form used at St. Andrew's Evensong, like all forms of liturgical worship, has elements of drama and ritual that nourish the spiritual life of all of us. It is based entirely on elements of Holy Scripture and it is scripted according to a long history, originating in Judaic and early Christian evening worship. Evensong is traditionally mostly sung by a choir, with the full congregation participating throughout in thoughtful prayer, allowing the music to touch us and to draw us closer to the presence of God.

Please join us for this service. Bring some friends! A reception will follow in Room 325. The next evensong will be at 5 p.m. on Sunday, May 7.

ACOLYTE TRAINING: Did you miss acolyte training?

Thank you to our acolytes! Acolytes serve an important role in every service. If you would like to acolyte but missed the training, please email office@standrewsc.org to let us know!

Youth Director Search

It's time to open our search for a new youth director to the parish! This is a 10 hr/week position (with flexible summers) for someone who enjoys youth and is comfortable with organizing and communicating. The most important aspect of the job is keeping our community for youth and their families together and strong! Some experience with education is helpful, but no theological training is required. Our classes follow very user-friendly curricula.

If you are interested, but have questions about how you could make this position work with your life, please reach out to either Fr. Jeff (rector@standrewsc.org) or Kathy Hickner (youth@standrewsc.org). We are open to creative possibilities! Please communicate your interest by Friday, April 21.

Honoring Graduates this Spring

We will be honoring high school, college, and graduate school graduates this spring at St. Andrew's with a bulletin board of pictures and short biographies. If you have a graduate in your family and would like to participate, please email (or drop off in the main office) a picture and short bio to Kathy Hickner (youth@standrewsc.org) by Friday May 5. Spring Cleanup Day

Saturday, April 29

10 a.m. – 2 p.m., grounds of St. Andrew's

(Raindate: Sunday, April 30)

Property Committee Returns to Spring Cleanup Day Event

It has been at least two years since the Property Committee last organized and carried out a cleanup day to have volunteers from the church gather and tackle outside chores such as weeding, pruning, and more. Like so many other activities in our lives, the pandemic forced us to put even this activity aside. Well, no more! We are starting over again with a Spring Cleanup Day, scheduled for Saturday, April 29 and we need VOLUNTEERS!

This is a great way to get necessary grounds work done and to share in fellowship with our St. Andrew's family members. I especially encourage new/newer members of St. Andrew's to join in the fun! Whether you truly enjoy getting dirt under your fingernails like I do or are simply willing to come to church for a couple of hours or more to handle a rake/shovel in communion with others, I look forward to hearing from you. There is, as you can imagine with such a long layoff, much to be done. We will focus on the grounds around the church and Parish Life Center first and then move on to Trinity House if enough time. Plus!, pizza and beverages will be provided for lunch.

Please contact me in person after the 10 a.m. service on Sundays or by email at pga19@hotmail.com. If you have questions about specific tasks I would be happy to answer any and all.

Sincerely, Paige Andrew, on behalf of the Property Committee.

EASTER BLESSINGS CAMPAIGN: PARISHIONERS' MINISTRY OF ST. ANDREW'S

APRIL 1-23, 2023 | bit.ly/PMEasterBlessings2023

You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' This is the greatest and first commandment. And a second is like it: 'you shall love your neighbor as yourself.'

-- Matthew 22:37-39

As we celebrate our new life in Christ this Easter season, please consider blessing our neighbors in need through a financial contribution to the Parishioners' Ministry of St. Andrew's.

About Parishioners Ministry

- Since 1958, the Parishioners' Ministry of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church (PM) has provided modest financial assistance to people in the community facing unexpected financial emergencies.
- On average the PM annually supports approximately 110 households with ~$11,000 in unexpected expenses. With the majority of PM funds now going to unexpected housing expenses, this Ministry helps make it possible for individuals and families to remain in their homes.
- St. Andrew's is one of only five local churches with a dedicated financial outreach Ministry, making it an integral member of the local community safety net.
- Since the 2020 austerity budget, a majority of Parishioners' Ministry budget has been independently funded by contributing parishioners.

How to Contribute

Financial contributions of any amount and frequency to this Ministry will make an impact on the lives of your neighbors.

- For contributions made online, go to bit.ly/PMEasterBlessings2023 and choose "Parishioners' Ministry" from the dropdown menu. Both one-time or recurring contributions are welcomed!
- For contributions made by check, please include "Parishioners' Ministry" in the memo line.

Thank You!

As a small token of our appreciation, anyone who contributes by Sunday, April 23 will receive a Parishioners' Ministry magnet.

We are so grateful to the congregation for going above and beyond their regular giving to the church to support this Ministry! With any questions, please contact Wendi Keeler, Chief PM Steward, at keeler.wendi@gmail.com.
